Overall, I'm pleased with the results of the first test. The average for the entire class was 73.1, and each section average was very close to the overall average. There were 23 (17%) scores of 90 or higher, and 7 students had scores of 100. Only 10 students scored below 50, and I see no reason they cannot raise their averages. Everyone would benefit by practicing more related rates problems!
